What our panel are looking for:

- A fully completed nomination form
- Detailed supporting evidence/additional documentation
- The unsung heroes of the NLP Community - those people who use NLP in their community or in their workplace to benefit their clients, friends, family and society in general.

Guidance Notes

The quality of the nomination is CRITICAL for the nominee to be considered.

The panel will be made up of people who are OUTSIDE of the NLP community and will judge purely on the content of the nomination form. A form that effectively says “You know who I mean” is not informative! Please do as much research and provide as much evidence to back up your nomination. Saying that someone has achieved something specific will always carry more weight if there is evidence such as a letter of thanks/recommendation, newspaper article, online reference or independent witnesses.

The narrative of the nomination is also important to allow the sponsors, charity and other panel members to understand how the nominee has made an impact. This narrative may also be used for in winner’s press releases, national and international media. So, make it the best you can!

1. Liaise with the Nominee

If you are considering entering on behalf of a third party please make sure that you submit all of the relevant information and liaise with the person or organisation you are nominating.

2. Make time and enjoy it!

These awards are a celebration and you could choose to enjoy the process from start to finish! If you are completing an application, you obviously believe in what you or your colleagues have done. Enjoy it - this will come across in your application. Set some time aside to really consider your answers and let the words speak for themselves.

3. Ownership

Make sure you own this process so that you get the entry submitted. It is very easy to do and we want to recognise contribution, so ensure one person gets it done.

4. Enjoy it

This is a tremendous achievement. To even be submitting an award application means that you are proud of the work that the nominee or that you are doing and the difference you are making - please enjoy and celebrate that.

5. Word your entry carefully and answer the questions

Our panel will be reading through many applications, so describing the project carefully is vital if you want to portray the significance and worthiness of the person or project you are putting forward for an award. Make sure you explain it clearly, keep to the point, sense check the details and proof read it!

6. Make sure you are submitting your entry to the right category

You can nominate an individual/organisation to as many as three categories. Please make sure you are submitting to a relevant category.

7. Word count and deadlines!

We cannot accept submissions that are received late. We will confirm receipt of all award submissions by email. If you haven't received a confirmation of receipt, assume we haven't received it so please contact us or resubmit to unity@nlpawards.com.

Please stick to the word count (minimum and maximum where applicable) - if you don't, the nomination will be rejected.

8. Beyond the application: Supporting evidence

The panel are happy to receive and would encourage supporting evidence. Please keep this relevant (3 items maximum per nomination), as the panel will be busy. Please do use supporting evidence where necessary and make sure the panel are clear on why you are submitting this.

9. Read through the submission check list to ensure your entry is complete.
